Partnerships

Through its various collections, THG exceeds standards set by today's discerning, luxury consumer. Thus, it's a natural fit that THG has joined forces with the world's foremost designers, preeminent tastemakers, and luxury goods brands of equal caliber, such as LALIQUE, BERNARDAUD, Pierre-Yves Rochon, and Jamie Drake. Through our prestigious collaborations and partnerships, THG has evolved into the industry leader that sets the standard for all to follow.

Quality/Manufacturing

THG is one of few manufacturing houses left in the world to integrate the entire production process under one roof— from design and engineering, to tooling and plating.

THG remains family-owned and operated, run by descendants of the original founders whom remain steadfastly committed to excellence; a tradition that is brought to life in every THG fitting produced

Projects

THG has brought beauty and inspiration to the most stylish hotels, architectural residences, royal palaces and yachts across the globe. It is our prestigious references that speak volumes to the level and quality of products which we craft.
